

CRIMINAL ASSIZES IN THE SUPREME COURT

Fifteen cases set down for hearing which opened today before Mr. Justice Simons. Fifteen cases were set down for trial and the prisoners were all arraigned with the exception of two, who are already serving terms in the penitentiary and will come up tomorrow morning. "Not guilty" was the plea in each case. Only three of the accused elected to be tried by jury. They were J. E. Whelan, charged with killing a police constable; A. W. Smith, charged with converting money to his own use; and Carl Paul, charged with rape.

The jury cases were not ready for trial this morning and the first will be proceeded with this afternoon. The jury was dismissed until this afternoon and the trial of Rita Donato, charged with non-support of his wife, was proceeded with. The accused is a man who was married to a white girl and lived with her in a shack near Jamboree, on the G.T.P. west of Edmonton. The marriage took place several months ago. The pair lived about a mile apart from the home of the girl's father. The young woman took the stand this morning and told of her husband's failure to provide proper medicine for her when she was ill.

and to supply her with the necessities of life. When she had asked twice to return to her home, he had refused to let her go. The hearing of evidence is being continued this afternoon.

THE CEMENT MERGER.

General Manager Avenue Sir Sanford Fleming of Disappointment.

Montreal, May 15.—Mr. P. F. Jones, general manager of the Canada Cement company, returned last evening from Ottawa, where he had been acting for his company in the interests of the legislation before the private bills committee.

"Mr. Sanford Fleming's statements do not represent the facts as far as I know anything about them. Any change made in the constitution of the Canada Cement company was made by him. He is not a member of the company. January 1st, 1911, there were no difficulties until Mr. Sanford saw that the president would not take over other company of which he was president in the division of the shareholders of the Canada Cement company."

Beyond this statement Mr. Jones would make no comment on the situation.

Lutheran Churches Annularistic.

St. Louis, May 15.—English Lutheran today lost its identity as a distinct denomination, when the clergy congregations comprising this branch of the Missouri synod became merged with the 2,000 German congregations. Hereafter the English churches will comprise the first of 24 districts of the Lutheran church in the United States.

Winipeg, May 15.—At a meeting of the city council, held and writer committee this afternoon, Alderman Douglas protested against the undertaking of merchants by the fire insurance companies, whose agents make capital out of the delayed report of the special commission appointed last winter on the Kelly fire.

WILL LOAN MONEY AT FIVE PER CENT.

New Home-Building Company Opens for Business—Will Loan for Building Purposes—New Scheme, Will Be of Great Benefit to Many Who Contemplate Erecting Houses.

Edmonton can now boast of the home of the first financial institution loaning money at 5 per cent. The new scheme, known as the New Home-Building company, with head office in Vancouver, have opened for business at 242 Jasper avenue east, with Mr. E.

A. Jensen in charge. In conversation with Mr. E. G. Rogers, sales manager, who is also spending a few days in the city, the Bulletin learned that the Canadian Home Investment company has a complete plan whereby the saver, the investor and the borrower have a great advantage over old methods of financing. All financial institutions must, of necessity, go through a period of getting acquainted with the public and it sometimes takes them years to establish a home-savings society for their customers and to themselves. In this respect the Canadian Home Investment company seems to have made rapid progress, as they are now loaning money through their accumulation system at 5 per cent. An institution of this kind is a great benefactor to the borrower, as he only pays 5 per cent. interest on the money he borrows, and he has ten years and at sometime to return the amount borrowed in monthly instalments. We also note the advantages of the investor, as their plan is positively void of anything of a speculative nature, and their saving plan gives the saver an interest of more than 6 per cent, which should be an attractive feature to the saver of money.

Borrowing to Build.
The advantages of borrowing from a company whose plan is that of accumulation of money gathered from the masses in one sense is that it is cheap, as well as from the masses in the money market and money is of high price, does not, of necessity, undergo worry, say awake nights wondering how he is going to meet his obligation when it comes due, for under the accumulation plan (or which it appears the Canadian Home Investment company exists at least in this part of Canada) he knows that as long as he keeps up his monthly instalments his loan cannot be called, whereas in the case where he borrows from an individual he always has that fear that the lender may suddenly ask for his capital, and he would be put to disadvantage to immediately locate someone who would come to his rescue, especially in times when there is a stringency in the money market and money is something the borrower is held at a premium. Under the accumulation plan of the Canadian Home Investment company a stringency in the money market does not affect the interest paid by the borrower, nor does the man with money have any advantage over the man who can just save sufficient to meet his obligations. Everyone under this plan of accumulation is financially equal as far as their position with the company is concerned. The plan under which the Canadian Home Investment company operates its business is that of a company in the United States which has been operating for a number of years, and through this system have built up their assets to something more than a million dollars, and have about the most rigid investigation of accounts, auditors and bank exam-ers representing the states in which they do business in the United States.

MYSTERY ENVELOPES FITZGERALD'S DEATH

Investigating Police to Reveal Details of the Dawson-McPherson Patrol's Last Struggle—Common Theory That the Men were Poisoned by Partaking of Dogs' Liver.

Dawson, April 24.—Corporal Dempster and his three heroic fellow mushers spent all records for time on the round trip between Dawson and MacPherson, and found the body of the four members of the Royal North-West Mounted Police, who perished while attempting the annual winter expedition from Fort MacPherson to Dawson via the devil's den across the Rocky Mountains.

The party which was lost was headed by Captain F. A. Fitzgerald, formerly of Halifax. The others were S. J. Carter, of Hamilton, Ont.; G. F. Kinney, formerly a cavalryman in the United States army in the Philippines; and Richard O'Hara Taylor.

Personnel of Party.
Of the rescue party Dempster is from Pembroke, Ont.; Wain, of Aberdeen, Scotland; and Turner, from Halifax; while Stewart, the guide, is a Fort MacPherson Indian half-breed.

Details of the tragedy have been published in the press. It now remains, however, that the Fitzgerald party is only one of supplies on starting, but had hoped to make good by traveling light, and even took no shotgun. With such a start they might have killed sufficient ptarmigan daily.

The common opinion in Dawson is that the Fitzgerald party was lost because of not having an acquaintance with the country and not having a native guide; and that it perished on the return trip for want of proper equipment for hunting small game.

Consumed 15 Dogs.
The party consumed fifteen dogs. Some of them were of the same breed as the others. At the camp thirteen miles from MacPherson on the return were found two dog harnesses. Were the men well enough at that point to have been able to make the finish with the meat of two dogs? They may have been reduced and famished, and probably poisoned from eating dogs' liver. Something in their diary points back, said the men had become ill, and one of them was supposed to have been dog liver which was the cause.

Although the temperature was low and the trail barren, the cold and snow probably bothered the men little compared to want of food. The desperate fight to the finish shows the men held out against odds that make them heroes to every Northerner.

Remains Laid in Place.
The Dempster party carried three guns, one of which was a shotgun, and had all the birds desired.

The manner in which the two divisions of the Fitzgerald party succumbed never will be known in all its details, but all the roles and other equipment which the men carried on the last stretch was left by Taylor and Kinney, Fitzgerald and Carter, when found, had no tobacco, no robes, and only two little red blankets and their snowshoes and a few trifles. Evidently they had attempted a dash through to MacPherson light, and it appears they thought themselves strong enough for the dash. Why, after displaying such strength, they both died as they were, is a mystery. Why Fitzgerald also succumbed to close after being able to drag Carter to one side and lay him out beneath the mystery, some think perhaps the men were poisoned by dogs' liver or dog meat, and that such was the cause of a comparatively sudden death. Some venture the idea that poison may have been the cause of the death of all the party.

Win Written With Charcoal.
For this reason some have suggested a post mortem examination of the stomachs and contents. Fitzgerald had closed Carter's eyes, crossed his hands and put a handkerchief over his face. The body was a few feet from where they had built a fire. The men had climbed a little hill for the last camp.

Fitzgerald's will is understood to have been written in charcoal or on a piece of bark. The note written at the first camp was written in the same manner. Fitzgerald was lying facing Carter and with eyes wide open, evidently expecting to see the end of his dead comrade. The last, Kinney and Taylor were lying under their sleeping robes, with no tent about them. Taylor's head was missing, and in his hand was the rifle, the sole weapon of the party of four. Possibly in his weakened condition, dragged down by worry and fatigue, or poisoned food having driven him insane, if not delirious, he had awakened and found Kinney water and four of them were drowned.

It may be that he had been an accident. The harness of two dogs and tobacco were near the bodies of Taylor and Kinney.

DISTRICT NEWS

WAINWRIGHT.
Bulletin News Service.
Two American gentlemen, after a long cruise, have arrived in Wainwright. They were in the company of a Wisconsin farmer, while the other was driven out to the Buffalo Park and were very much interested in the Wainwright would be a great tourist attraction.

Last night the automobile party, containing Mayor Lawton, Councilman Munson, Chief Wainwright, and V. Fieldhouse, arrived home after inspecting fire halls at Vermilion, Vegreville, Fort Saskatchewan, Edmonton, Wainwright and a canoe.

The fire this week have kept the fire brigade quite busy. Last Wednesday a fire started in a small shack at the extremity of the town, and though it was well under way, the fire brigade made short work of it. Also on Sunday a fire was started by a train near Mr. J. Norwick's house, so that the train around was a mass of flames when the brigade reached it. Last night at a wrestling match in the auditorium, Pete Klein threw Albert Mortimer, two out three falls. Mortimer threw Klein at the first two minutes and forty seconds. Two preliminary boxing matches were also arranged, one between Harry Saunders and Oliver Jackson, the other between Clarke and Alf Gould.

Two automobiles took a trip to Vermilion this week from town, doing the forty miles in about three hours, compared with half an hour last year.

The vacant quarters of homestead land are one by one being taken up by people who value good soil, good water and being near timber, with the Paddle river, for the benefit of the stock as well as the fishing.

Chas. Baird of Twin Lake in trying to make a ford over the river last week, found the water deeper than he expected and had to jump in the water and being near timber, with the Paddle river, for the benefit of the stock as well as the fishing.

At Moss, John, who "fled" on a homestead here in December last, has just celebrated his eightieth birthday and is not afraid to put his hand to the brush myth and clear his land.

Gordon McDonald, homesteaded in the town neighborhood, Mr. Adair has installed a fine organ, too, in his comfortable home. Mrs. Helen Baker has returned from a cruise over the Athabasca river where she and Chas. Baird were trapping and hunting all winter. A young son was born to the family of Reginald Lindsay. A most impressive service was held at the church of St. Louis on Thursday in connection with the death of Leon Humber. The Rev. A magnificent wreath was sent amongst others, from the members of the town band, which deceased's son is a member, and in recognition of his own great musical ability, he having given his services on many an occasion to the church choir.

The church was crowded to its utmost capacity, with those who wished to pay their last respects. The pall bearers were Messrs. Schuler, H. McFarlane, J. J. Cart, E. Nicola, R. Hearn, and A. Conant. The deceased was 52 years of age and leaves a widow, four sons and two daughters. He took much interest in the affairs of the town.

COMMITTED SUICIDE.
Chief Steward of Moose Jaw Hotel Found His Own Life Dismal Troubles Said to Be Cause.

Moose Jaw, Sask., May 15.—James R. McCarthy, steward of the Moose Jaw hotel, committed suicide in the cellar of the hotel at 5 o'clock this morning, by shooting himself with a double-barreled shotgun. He was a homesteader in Manitoba, and a wife in Winnipeg. Domestic troubles are believed to be the cause.

The deceased was aged 35, and was a pleasant manager of several West London Reg. hotels, and also in Winnipeg and Monte Carlo.

CARPENTERS GO ON STRIKE

Brandon, May 15.—This morning the rumored labor troubles in the building trades materialized when thirty-two carpenters quit work at the new Canadian Northern hotel. The Dominion fair wage officer reported in Winnipeg Saturday that this strike was pending, but the contractors here denied the truth of the report. The carpenters are asking for an all-round increase to forty cents an hour. Up to the present some of the men have been getting that rate, but low capable men have been getting only 20 to 25 cents.

At noon today the foreman of the new C. N. H. hotel announced that the demands of the men had been met and the carpenters will return to work at once.

WORLD'S HIGHEST BUILDING—The picture shows the building in New York City as it will look when completed. Not only is it the tallest building in the world, but also the most modern. It is being built on the roof for aeroplanes and dirigibles. BISWANGER WAS ONLY WITNESS

Ex-Superintendent Street Railway Tells of Complaints.

At the afternoon session of the committee of the city council investigating the charges made against Commissioner Bouillon and Hinchey, C. V. Biswanger was the only witness called and at the conclusion of the hearing of his evidence the committee adjourned until Monday morning next when, says the council who are acting in the case, all interested parties will be available to enable the hearing to proceed to a conclusion without further delay.

Examination by C. C. McCaul.

Mr. Biswanger stated that he continued to occupy the position of superintendent of the street railway on February 23rd, when his services were terminated by the commissioners. Charges 2 (b), in which the commissioners are accused of altering the place for extension to the car barn, so as to reduce the space necessary to accommodate the cars, was then taken up. The charge, it is stated, concerned loss to the city.

On Off Foot.

The original charge, he stated, called for a space twenty feet in length and eighteen feet in width. Ten feet of this space, he declared, was cut off by the commissioners. The result was to reduce the area of circulation so that the passengers were too small for the better. Increased expense was incurred. He did not know how much.

Examined concerning 2 (b) in the list of charges, he stated that he had submitted a report and requisition for three spare motors on November 16th, 1910.

Mr. Hinchey at this point stated that he was instructed that there was no such report and no such requisition. The requisition came back to him cancelled. He handed the slip over when his left office and had been unable to find the requisition slip. Mr. Hinchey, the master mechanic, was present when he signed the requisition and had seen it contents. A new requisition in December and remained in the barn until he left. It could not be operated for three or four weeks owing to the absence of the motors. The small average could not be operated for the same reason. This was not a great disadvantage as there were no big storms.

The Motor Generator Set.

In reply to questions regarding charge 2 (b) he stated that a motor generator set was "a sub station for handling power for the street railway."

"I do not know very much about this motor generator set," said the witness, "except that Mr. Bouillon and I talked about it. I told him we ought to have more power." A report recommending its purchase, he said, was submitted on December 22nd, signed by himself, and also by superintendents McCaul, and O'Grady. He did not remember hearing anything more from the commissioners until they were called upon to prepare specifications some time in January. This report was received by the commissioners on January 24th. Later cross-examination by Mr. Hinchey, he stated that he was absent from office from December 23rd to 25th, and that he did not know whether the motor generator set was not a $12,000 purchase, he stated that he had no idea of the price.

"What is a motor generator set?" he asked.

"It is a sub station for drawing power from the power house. It is used as a storage," was his reply.

He admitted in reply to a question that he did not know much about the machine, but had seen one.

"As a matter of fact," said Mr. Hinchey, "it was Mr. Bouillon who suggested that it would be wise to have this machine, was it not?"

"I think it was I who suggested it," was his reply.

Unquestioned concerning the ordering of motor equipment for street cars, witness stated that Mr. Bouillon had said that in the coming year they would adopt the electric and equipment and would then have equipped motors. This was before he had lost the requisition. The new car arrived on December 2nd. It would have been seven to ten days to equip it, and it could have come into use, if the motors had been available, about the 5th or 10th of December. It did not go into use until after the 23rd of December, when he had left the service of the city. Motors had turned out in four cars, and these up for about four weeks, during the latter part of January at the first week of February.

"You prepared the order for the motors, did you not?" asked Mr. Hinchey.

"Mr. Bouillon placed the order," replied witness.

Checked the Specifications.

"We checked the specifications and material?"

"Yes."

"Is it not a fact that the average was held up because you omitted to include in the specifications the two controllers required to operate it?"

"There were three," said witness.

"Very well," said Mr. Hinchey, "then."

FIGHT ON VETO BILL HAS ENDED

An Amendment to Reject the Whole Bill Was Defeated by a Large Majority and the Bill Gets Its Third Reading.

London, May 15.—The fight in the house of commons over the veto bill, to curtail the power of the house of lords, ended today.

An amendment to reject the whole bill was defeated, 243 to 242, and the measure was carried on its third reading, 323 to 241.

The amendment of the clauses was received with a tremendous outburst of applause and several of the ministers called out to the opposition.

"Now to the line, and take it like men!"

It is expected the bill will go to the house of lords at an early date.

The debate in the house of lords today on the second reading of Lord Lansdowne's bill for the reconstruction of the upper chamber, indicated that the leaders order will fail to secure many of the Unionist votes in voting for a measure to alter their own political future.

Baron Willoughby de Broke declared that the house was now constituted in the last the country could set, and if he were going to perish he would prefer his ruin at the hands of the lords rather than at the hands of their lordships.

The speeches supporting the bill lacked enthusiasm.

Lord Morley, of Blackburn, spoke and insisted that the passage of the veto bill must precede any settlement or compromise with respect to the upper chamber.

He threw out the significant suggestion that in any reconstruction of the lords the number would be restricted to 100.

This is regarded as foreshadowing the government's purpose when the reform of the lords comes before it.

Passengers All Board for West.

Montreal, May 15.—The Laurentide and the Tachan arrived in port today with large passenger lists. Not less than 224 second class passengers, practically every one of whom is bound for the west, arrived on the Laurentide.

The steamer passengers were loaded at Quebec. There were an unusual large number of them also.

Street Halls for C. N. R.

Toronto, Ont., May 15.—Three shipments of over 20,000 tons of coal have been received on the Pacific coast for use in the smelters of the Canadian Northern railway from Port Mann to the North Thompson river, and two other shipments of about 50,000 tons of steel are on their way to Vancouver.

DISCUSS CENSUS COMMISSIONERS

Conservatives Attack Liberal Organiser in Province of Manitoba.

Ottawa, May 15.—The Commons made good headway with the disposal of private bills at the morning session and early part of the afternoon sitting, but when a motion to take up supply was reached, some four hours were taken up with a discussion of an amendment by W. D. Stables (Manitoba) in which it was stated that all census enumerators in Manitoba had been recommended for appointment by H. E. Perry, Liberal organizer for that province.

The amendment was voted down at eleven o'clock on a division of 44 to 41, a government majority of 23.

The discussion continued after the Liberal organizers who it was stated, made all the recommendations. The opposition produced letters to show that this was connected with the Prince Albert election scandal of 1905, and argued that it was a proper procedure when a Liberal recommended men for election in that province.

Mr. J. Borden declared that Mr. Perry was in the position of an accessory before the fact in the crimes of the deputy returning officers who had been proven against Mr. Perry.

Mr. J. P. Fisher said that nothing had been proven against Mr. Perry, and that the charges were mere insinuations on which he acted.

He thought it was a pity in his favor that he had been chosen by Manitoba Liberals as their organizer.

Mr. J. P. Fisher emphasized the point that no complaint had been made as to the qualifications of the commissioners and the organizers (the named and said it was out of the question to expect the government to make public the names of people recommending the appointments to public office.

Asked About Conciliation Board.

John Heron (Hutchinson) asked that truth there was in a newspaper depicting that the board of conciliation to inquire into the strike of the western miners had disbanded on the ground that nothing could be done.

Mr. Mackenzie King replied that he had had a telegram from the chairman of the board, stating that it had been adjourned temporarily and that the delay would materially help the investigation.

The minister said he had gathered that in the opinion of the members of the board, further conference took place before further action was taken.

There was no intention of the board to discontinue their efforts toward settling a settlement.

George Taylor (Crested) asked if it were true that the speeches of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. W. G. Bennett were being sent out in bundles to postmen who were instructed to distribute them. He was informed that this was the case.

Mr. Bennett said that he would tell the postmaster-general being asked, the minister of finance and he would bring the matter to his attention.

Letter from Col. Hughes.

Mr. Barker read a letter to an Ottawa newspaper from Col. J. M. Hughes, in which the colonel stated: "I am leaving for England tomorrow as military adviser to the imperial conference."

Mr. Barker asked if such an appointment had been made.

Lord Mr. Fielding replied that no such appointment had been made by the Canadian government nor had information that such an appointment had been made by any government.

Just before the house rose a vote of $25,000 for Dominion exhibition at Regina was passed.

Conservatives Attack Liberal Organiser in Province of Manitoba.

Ottawa, May 15.—The Commons made good headway with the disposal of private bills at the morning session and early part of the afternoon sitting, but when a motion to take up supply was reached, some four hours were taken up with a discussion of an amendment by W. D. Stables (Manitoba) in which it was stated that all census enumerators in Manitoba had been recommended for appointment by H. E. Perry, Liberal organizer for that province.

The amendment was voted down at eleven o'clock on a division of 44 to 41, a government majority of 23.

The discussion continued after the Liberal organizers who it was stated, made all the recommendations. The opposition produced letters to show that this was connected with the Prince Albert election scandal of 1905, and argued that it was a proper procedure when a Liberal recommended men for election in that province.

Mr. J. Borden declared that Mr. Perry was in the position of an accessory before the fact in the crimes of the deputy returning officers who had been proven against Mr. Perry.

Mr. J. P. Fisher said that nothing had been proven against Mr. Perry, and that the charges were mere insinuations on which he acted.

He thought it was a pity in his favor that he had been chosen by Manitoba Liberals as their organizer.

Mr. J. P. Fisher emphasized the point that no complaint had been made as to the qualifications of the commissioners and the organizers (the named and said it was out of the question to expect the government to make public the names of people recommending the appointments to public office.

Asked About Conciliation Board.

John Heron (Hutchinson) asked that truth there was in a newspaper depicting that the board of conciliation to inquire into the strike of the western miners had disbanded on the ground that nothing could be done.

Mr. Mackenzie King replied that he had had a telegram from the chairman of the board, stating that it had been adjourned temporarily and that the delay would materially help the investigation.

The minister said he had gathered that in the opinion of the members of the board, further conference took place before further action was taken.

There was no intention of the board to discontinue their efforts toward settling a settlement.

George Taylor (Crested) asked if it were true that the speeches of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. W. G. Bennett were being sent out in bundles to postmen who were instructed to distribute them. He was informed that this was the case.

Mr. Bennett said that he would tell the postmaster-general being asked, the minister of finance and he would bring the matter to his attention.

NON-SECTARIAN WAS GATHERING

Eloquent Speeches at Closing Exercises of Alberta College.

An eloquent appeal to Prof. Osborne, by the departing students marked the closing exercises of Alberta college, which were held last evening for the first time in the assembly hall of the new college building in steeplehouse. The gathering, which was numerous and representative of Methodism in Alberta, reflected in the reception which each speaker was accorded, the enthusiasm and the pride quite properly felt by those who had borne the heat and burden of the day in having secured the establishment of a Methodist Theological college in the heart of central Alberta. A significant feature of the meeting was the presence and the words of life, John McQuinn, who typified in his own person the spirit that had run into the wilderness the missionaries of the early days and had lived to see his dreams accomplished.

The sectarian spirit of the meeting was indicated by the presence on the platform of Dr. Tye, of the university, and of Mr. Dr. Dyke, of the newly formed Presbyterian college.

Dr. Tye, who was the first speaker, called on to make a formal address, took advantage of the opportunity to sound the death of sectarianism as indicated by the movement of the past few years. He hoped that in some far-off time it might be that there would be taught within the university walls in an school for all denominations, but that in view of the important state of our knowledge and of our limitations it could not be for some years to come. Nevertheless the drawing together of the churches was beginning to show us that what was regarded as was no nothing to that which was common property, so to speak, of the Protestant churches and time was not far distant when the Presbyterian, Methodist and the Congregational churches would have, if not a unified system, at least some working relation among themselves.

Dr. Dyke, who followed spoke as a member of the committee appointed by the Presbyterian church to negotiate with the other churches as to a realistic basis of union of the churches. He was quite sure that the future held in store the organic union of the three churches, but at the same time he thought that a man could be a Presbyterian, a Methodist, an Anglican without at the same time being a sectarian. He desired a man who owned allegiance to no one but to the commonwealth of the world, to the commonwealth of the church, Prof. Osborne thought, was the life and personality of Jesus Christ. As preachers they would teach the son of Jesus were their constant refrain and if they failed to him not only as a historic figure, however interesting, but as a reality, but as a type of reality of the possibility of development in the human race. "Jesus is the supreme effluence and development of our divine-human race."

In conclusion Prof. Osborne urged his hearers to imitate Jesus in seeking to learn and to appropriate to themselves universal laws. For those who understood Jesus, were the source of the inspiration of a great and noble result of creation is just to be. There will some day arise a breed of men who will actuate in their personality and development all the dreams and visions of the human race.

The address of Prof. Osborne was followed after the interval of a reading, by the presentation of the Senior Slick by Dr. John McQuinn to Dr. John L. Wright. The speech of Dr. McQuinn was largely reminiscent, recalling the occasion on which the pulpits in the old church, Dr. McQuinn reminded his hearers of the early struggles of the church and of the vision that had inspired the men who had built the foundation.

He pointed that the memory of the dead would be an inspiration to future classes within these college halls. The diplomas and scholarships were then awarded by Dr. McQuinn, after which the class files were read. A very pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation in the office of a portrait of Dr. McQuinn by the students.

Reference should be made to the programme in addition to the speeches and addresses. Miss Hicks' readings, especially "Moria and the Glean," was especially appreciated.

The chairman of the evening was Mr. H. C. Taylor, who referred to make any lengthy address, but, however, few performed the duties of chairman in a manner that was pleasing to all.

PREMIER SCOTT IN GOOD HEALTH

Is Not in Montreal En Route to the Convention—Says Reciprocity Is Very Popular Throughout the West—Confidence in Mr. Oliver.

Montreal, May 15—Premier Scott of Saskatchewan is at Windsor Hotel today on his way to England to attend the coronation ceremonies to which he has been officially invited as the representative of his province. He will sail from New York on the Carmania, the vessel and will be accompanied by Mr. Scott.

Least, Governor Brown and Mrs. Brown and Attorney General Targem and Mrs. Targem will be sailing on the same ship.

The disquieting rumors regarding Mr. Scott's health are evidently without foundation, for he is looking the picture of robust health and says he never felt better in his life.

The most significant movement among the farmers of the West at the present time is the co-operation movement which has just found expression in the bill that has passed the legislature, providing for inter-district co-operation on the co-operative plan, and the premier is discussing Western affairs.

Reciprocity, Mr. Scott said, is very popular in the province as was demonstrated by the legislature passing a resolution unanimously in favor of it with a speech supporting it from Mr. Hamilton, the leader of the opposition.

The charges against Hon. Mr. Oliver, he said, had excited very little attention in Saskatchewan. Mr. Oliver's reputation of honesty and integrity was too sound and of too long standing to be affected by intemperate charges such as the present time.

Mr. Scott felt that the result of the investigation will be to completely dispose the intemperate charges against the minister of the interior.

EVERY citizen of Edmonton who believes the obvious facts of the Edmonton Portland Cement Company will have shares to the extent of his ability to purchase, without delay. Just at present a few are being deterred in subscribing because the enterprise has such great possibilities. In other words there are those who will buy stock that can only pay a four and a half per cent. dividend, but will not buy stock that will pay a forty per cent. dividend. This is very good doctrine for the man who "has got it in" for himself. But for the man who has not, the following Article No. 8 contains information worth while.

ARTICLE NUMBER EIGHT

The promise of great gains is sometimes looked upon with distrust, and justly so, for there are yet those going up and down the land in quest of gold whose only weapon of warfare is that with which Samson slew the Philistines. But to the sensible business man, who has learned to respect the value of facts, the promotion of shares in the Amalgamated Blue Sky Syndicate Unlimited, is but feeble argument against a solid and substantial business proposition that assures him of a safe and profitable return on his investment.

As a matter of fact there is more hope for the man who has papered the walls of his inner sanctum with shares in the Great Untamed Feline Companies Consolidated, than for the man who will not believe the multiplication table above the sixes. There is some hope for Mr. E. Z. Mark but none at all for the man whose soul is soured by distrust. The fellow who forever plays the watch dog over his own purse is barking around a hole that the game of opportunity "passed up" a long while ago.

The real sport is the fellow that knows game when he finds it, and then sticks to the trail. An old wise-acre down in Maryland used to have a saying: "Believe your beliefs and doubt your doubts; but don't believe your doubts and doubt your beliefs." There is a world of wisdom in this. Josh Billings used to say, "It is better not to know so much than to know so many things that ain't so." Success is the simplest thing in the world and failure the most difficult. No man ever made a failure in life who did not make himself and everyone else trouble enough for a dozen successes. Success follows knowing something that is worth while,—and knowing it.

Geo. Gould's chef can neither sing like Caruso, play the fiddle like Paganinni, nor dance like the great Mordkin, he can't even write a grammatical sentence in the English language, but he can make a salad that is a dream, and he gets $10,000 a year for that.

It is the simple facts that lie at the bottom of everything worth while. The greatest man the American nation has ever produced was as simple as a child. One time a committee of reformers called on the great Abe and presented a huge memorial setting forth how the war of the States could be immediately brought to an end and all the mistakes of his administration remedied forthwith. The great man listened in cross-legged patience for about two hours while the ponderous document was droned out and then when the leader of the crusaders asked: "Now Mr. President, what do you think of that?" The inimitable rail-splitter replied: "Well, for anybody that likes that sort of a thing, that's just about what he would like." And tradition has it that he forthwith ordered another cask of "Scotch" sent to Grant.

The great negro preacher John Jasper used to say: "There's only two kinds of sense, common sense and nonsense." What a pity it is that we are so slow to apply the principles of common sense to the simple facts that make men, honest, capable, efficient and rich. A great economist, of profound learning, recently said this: "If the civilized world would only follow the simple lines of common sense and obvious fact and opportunity for just one generation, and do nothing else, poverty would be forever banished from the earth.

It is to apply the principles of "common sense" to the "obvious facts" of the Edmonton Portland Cement Company that this article is written.

They are these:

(1) Portland Cement is the most universally used construction material which the world has ever known. Its production has increased twenty-two thousand per cent. in twenty years. 74,000,000 barrels were consumed in 1910 and at the average rate of increase in the past ten years, the demand will increase to 200,000, 000 barrels by 1920.

(2) The Edmonton Portland Cement Company owns what is believed to be the largest marl deposit on the American Continent, with an adjoining bed of fine blue clay far greater in extent than will ever be required. The materials which are now in evidence are sufficient to produce at least 12,500,000 barrels of Portland Cement in the next twenty years.

(3) By reason of its remarkable natural advantages, the Edmonton Portland Cement Company can produce Portland Cement at 78 cents per barrel. The disadvantages of its competitors, such as having to ship one or both of their materials and heavy freight charges from Eastern mills, has fixed the price of Portland Cement in the Edmonton district at not less than $3.05 per barrel. And the price will never be less for the reason that as the demand increases, the price will also advance by reason of the increasing disadvantages of new mills.

(4) The market in the Edmonton district alone is greater than the capacity of the proposed plant of the Edmonton Portland Cement Company by about 500,000 barrels per annum. Therefore, the Company can sell its entire output at its mill doors to the choicest trade of its district.

(5) What remains is a simple problem in arithmetic. The plant of the Edmonton Portland Cement Company will produce a minimum of 312,000 barrels of Portland Cement per year at a manufactured cost of 78 cents per barrel, and sell its output at a minimum price of $3.05 cents per barrel. Allowing 25 cents per barrel for freight charges, this makes the net profit on a year's operations $630,240.00.

Therefore the Edmonton Portland Cement Company Limited should pay an annual dividend of 40 per cent. on its stock; its shares should go to $200 in two years and to $500 in three years; and every citizen of Edmonton who has $100 of idle money should have shares in this Great Edmonton Enterprise immediately. Stock books open for subscriptions at the Parlor of the King Edward Hotel. Shares are $100 and reasonable terms of payment can be arranged.
